Hillary Clinton Cry Baby Supporters

Play-Doh, cry-ins and therapy dogs: This is how universities have become DAY CARE for sobbing crybully youth who are wetting their pants and screaming for mommy... WAAAAH!

From The NY Post:

* The University of Michigan offered its traumatized students coloring books and Play-Doh to calm them. (Are its students in college or kindergarten?)

* The University of Kansas reminded its stressed-out kids that therapy dogs, a regular campus feature, were available.

* Cornell University, an Ivy League school, held a campus-wide “cry-in,” with officials handing out tissues and hot chocolate.

* Tufts University offered its devastated students arts and crafts sessions. (OK, not kindergarten — more like summer camp.)

* At campuses from elite Yale to Connecticut to Iowa and beyond, professors canceled classes and/or exams — either because students asked or because instructors were too distraught to teach.

Anarchist-fueled violence and destruction can't be tolerated. Nor should corporate (or anti-corporate) temper tantrums that blatantly violate free-speech rights.

Collegiate sobbing and wailing, on the other hand, shouldn't be tolerated — especially not by the parents who are shelling out tens of thousands of dollars to pay for it.

And they all should consider that their reaction to Trump's win goes a long way towards explaining precisely why he did.

A brief history of alien invasion movies

At the following link (below) is an article about the history of “alien invasion” films. To flat earth believers, we know that this all part of an agenda to keep in the belief that there there are millions of galaxies with their accompanying stars and planets. This agenda is an on-going one to make sure we don't break out of our collective false reality with the latest alien invasion film that has just been release titled: “Arival” You can see a trailer of this “film to scare you” by doing a search on YouTube.

They Live

Talking about alien invasion films, one of the films is called “They Live.” You might recall this as it's a classic and it has a bit of truth in it. This is about a guy who comes across a raid on a church (not your mainline church). After the police raid, if I recall correctly, he goes inside and discovers a box of sunglasses. Thinking nothing of it, he takes one and goes on his way. Later he puts the glasses on and he notices that some of the people have features of a skull without the skin. He also notice the real words or meaning behind signs that he comes across. This film is based on consumerism and subliminal messages of “buy, buy, buy.”

Although I had seen the film many years ago, and I had seen it more than once; what struck me is hidden message. Now, I don't know if Hollywood intended it to be like this but I had noticed something that I had not before. The truth came from a church.

We know that the churches of all denominations have been teaching lies. Just look at what they teach and what the Bible says (King James, as many Bibles have been changed). But the point want to make is that the truth came from Christians. Now, this is Biblical. If you read in your Bible of the Prophets of old – anyone one of them – what did they do? They told the people of their sins and the impending doom IF they don't change. While we don't expect this from the churches today, as explained, we can expect this from individuals – just like in the Bible.

You see, in the Bible we had the false religions, such as Baal worship, so the truth did not come from the ecclesiastical but from some preacher of God – mostly working on his own.

To give an example, take the flat earth that you have learned about (for most of us it has been in the past year or two). Where did you hear this from? Did your preacher at your local church tell you? No. Did you hear it from some preacher on the TV? No. Did you learn this from some Christian publication from a mainline church? No. Where you most probably heard about this is either from a friend or some individual that put up a flat earth website or made videos. When you learned about the flat earth and the biblical connection, it came from some INDIVIDUAL CHRISTIAN who shared this information with you – either personally or on the internet.

Since it has been proven that the churches of the main denominations don't know the truth; and they probably don't want you to know (least they lose some of their members), you will not hear other

Bible truths from them. Therefore, you have to do your own Bible reading and research and find others INDIVIDUALS who is trying to spread God's Word throughout the land.

With that in mind, that is why I bring other topics of God's truth on Christian Flat Earth Ministry.org With God's enemy not telling you the truth about the earth and all of creation, it only stands to reason that they will lie about every other important issue. They do this in order to keep they System the way it is so they can retain control over you.

Like the film They Live, the truth came from some Christians who were not accepted by the Establishment or by the masses of the people.

USA Color Revolutions

Both the purpose of these types of agitation activities seems to be to first cause a public disruption, and also to foment are a form of modern class warfare. These political protests are designed in such a way as to disguise its true intentions. Ultimately, a radical globalist and cultural Marxist "progressive" agenda is at play – eroding the legitimacy of a democratically elected government through a series of artificial 'color' upheavals, and where possible – weakening a country's national sovereignty through forced dependency on multilateral globalist institutions like the UN or IMF, while presenting shock and awe imagery in order to manipulate the public's political perspective.

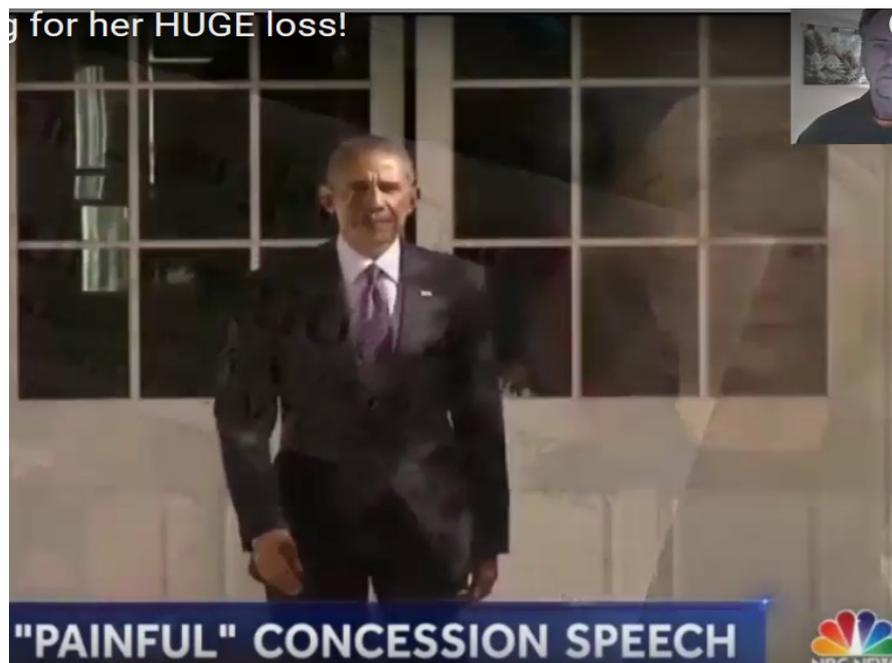

This is how the US and its CIA conduct their destabilization 'color revolution' campaigns overseas, and now astute observers will be able to see these exact same methods being deployed here inside the US.

World Leaders Wearing Purple

The enemy does not do things without hints of what they are going to do. This is part of the belief system of secret societies. You may doubt this, which is fine, but consider these facts:

When Hillary Clinton gave her concession speech after the election she had purple on her blazer. Bill Clinton was standing behind her and he was wearing a purple tie. Now, you might think this is coincidence but here is something else I discovered. In a video of Barack Obama, when he came outside of the White House the day after the election, guess what color tie he was wearing? You got it – purple! What are the odds of the three of them wearing the same color? How many times do you see men wear purple ties? (It happens and it's a nice color, but...) All the purple clothing you saw had no pattern on them. This is a rare occurrence; I believe there is a subtle message here; that the ties were picked out if Trump won and Hillary was to wear a certain outfit. In short, is this the name of the next so-called “revolution” - The Purple Revolution – that is trying to get started by the Jewish billionaire George Soros? I think so.

Another discovery

The next day I saw a video of Vladimir Putin who had a ceremony for new ambassadors he was welcoming from other countries. He talked few minutes and congratulated Donald Trump, which he said happened about 5 hours earlier. So, this video was also just after the election. Guess what color tie Putin was wearing? You got it – purple? Now, the odds of this happening increases: what are the odds of 4 people wearing the same color, these people being world leaders (or past world leaders), and all of this happening the same day? Is there any mathematician among our Readers who could tell us the odds of this happening?

Leviticus 26:17 And I will set My face against you, and ye shall be slain before your enemies; they that hate you shall reign over you, and ye shall flee when none pursueth you.

So-Called Super Moon

We were told that we had a “super moon” on November 15, 2016. In the early morning hours I woke up to the call of Nature when I looked out the window and look at the moon between the clouds. It did not look like a super moon to me. But I can see how the talk of a “super moon” would play into the heliocentric model of the universe. When people hear we have a “super moon,” they would say, “There must be other planets around us and doing their orbits, after all, we have the super moon.”

What nonsense.

When the media and so-called scientists say “super moon” and drop this in their articles, then when people go out to look at the moon, they actually believe that there is such a thing as “super moon.” What it is, is when certain things are said in the media and by people in authority, people tend to believe it. In this case, with the super moon, people go outside and actually believe what they are told. But, let's say that the moon is a few miles closer (lol), is that proof that the moon is 236,000 miles away traveling in its own orbit around the globe earth? Of course not. All this is, is suggestive embedded commands. There have been enough tests to show over the years of the power of suggestive embedded commands to manipulate the mind.

So, when people talk about the “super moon” as an argument for a heliocentric universe, it's just more nonsense!
