

From Copernicanism To The Big Bang

Modern Cosmology's Model of the Universe Is Built Solely On ASSUMPTIONS

The solar eclipse tableau involving the sun, moon, and earth reveals a truly amazing fact about the universal acceptance of the Copernican Heliocentric Model of a rotating earth orbiting a stationary sun. That amazing fact is this: The Eclipse Tableau exposes as no other illustration does the bald truth that the Helio Model is built purely on assumptions that deny all observational and experimental evidence.

Notice these seven assumptions which are indispensable to the Helio Model in general and are so apparent in the Solar Eclipse Phenomena.

- 1) It must be assumed that the Sun is stationary in the "solar" system relevant to the Earth (and to the Moon) and that it has never traveled East to West daily across the sky as observed by everyone on Earth throughout all history.
- 2) Likewise, it must be assumed that the Earth rotates West to East ccw (counterclockwise) on an "axis" every 24 hours at an equatorial speed of c. 1040 MPH in spite of there being nothing but a mathematical model's "necessary evidence" for this motion whatsoever.
- 3) It must be assumed that the Earth is also orbiting the Sun annually (ccw) at an average speed of c. 67,000 MPH.
- 4) It must be assumed that the Earth's axial alleged tilt of 23.5 degrees--in combination with its assumed annual orbit around the sun--is the only available scientific explanation for the seasons.
- 5) The Earth's atmosphere must be assumed to be just an airy, fixed extension of the alleged rotating Earth. It is assumed and must be assumed that this atmosphere must have the remarkable ability to synchronize speeds of objects in it at all altitudes--birds, clouds, jets, low orbit satellites, alleged geo-synchronous satellites over 22,000 miles out--and to be unaffected by alleged Earth movements of speeds ranging from 1000 MPH to 67,000 MPH to 500,000 MPH to 660,000,000 MPH. This assumption is mandatory once the rotating Earth assumption is made and cannot be ignored in the helio model of the eclipse phenomena.
- 6) A particularly fantastic assumption necessary to accommodating the precise Solar Eclipse Phenomena in the Helio Mathematical Model involves the bold reversal of the Moon's observed direction of travel. Acceptance of this occult slight of hand from the Arcane Math Department of Mystic U. has no basis in reality, of course. Rather, it must be coupled with prior acceptance of the other assumptions of a rotating Earth orbiting a stationary Sun. No moon reversal means no accurate eclipse forecasts and no accurate eclipse forecasts mean no heliocentricity model.
- 7) It must be assumed that the Stars do not move around the Earth diurnally (as they have been observed to do by everyone who has ever lived).

Each one of these seven assumptions is dependent on the other six. They are all interdependent and totally without observational or experimental support. They are solely mathematical models contrived to account for eclipses and other phenomena and replace the fact that what we actually see explains the phenomena.

By contrast, there are four requirements involved in the Biblical Geocentrism Model which fit all phenomena, including the incredibly precise Solar Eclipse Phenomena. All four are confirmed by observation and require no assumptions.

- 1) As observed, the Sun goes around a non-moving Earth every 24 hours.
- 2) The Earth is stationary relative to an orbiting Sun and Moon and Stars. This is a posture attested to by all the senses, confirmed by the Michelson-Morley et al experiments, established repeatedly in the Bible, and challenged only by a clever mathematical model...and by alleged distances to stars that prohibit their diurnal orbit. [See: Size-Structure Pt 6, Size-Structure Pt 1]
- 3) As observed without variation, the Moon orbits the stationary Earth east to west every 24 hours and 52 minutes on the average.
- 4) The Stars go around the Earth every 23 hours and 56 minutes. [See: Size-Structure Pt 4]

Given that the definition of "science" is derived from the Latin root scire which means "to know", and the definition of "assumption" is "to take for granted or to suppose", each person is free to determine whether the Helio or the Geo Model is true science. Just remember: Every time you watch the Sun when it rises, when it is high noon, and when it sets, you must assume that it isn't doing what your eyes tell you it is doing, but that it only appears to be moving because the Earth is allegedly turning under your feet at several hundred miles an hour. And when you see the Moon in all its phases come up in the east and set in the west, reject what you see. "Science" has trained you to assume that it is going precisely the opposite direction at about 2200 MPH. Then rejoice that you "know" that each assumption is correct because of the correctness of the other assumptions that each is based upon, and because everybody everywhere has learned of their correctness in school.

But surely, one would reason, there absolutely must be solid proof that the assumptions are true and right. Surely, the whole world couldn't be fooled by such a Brobdingnagian deception! So what is claimed to be proof for the model??!

It has to do with the stars. All that we actually see--including the stars going around the Earth nightly--has to be another illusion caused by the (assumed) rotation of the Earth. That rotation just makes it look like the stars are going around. Right?

Hmmm. OK. So, essentially, what today's Theoretical Science Establishment tells us about the cosmos is that everything we see is an illusion and everything that is assumed which nobody has ever seen is real science and the truth of the matter.

The ultimate defense of this strange conclusion is that "science" has allegedly shown that the stars are billions of light years distant from the Earth and cannot be going around it nightly as observed.

End of argument; case closed...so says the "science" establishment.

But wait! Not so fast! Let's re-open the case and establish beyond any reasonable doubt that the same pattern of fact-defying assumptions which sustain this "too-distant-star" defense is the same pattern that characterizes the supposed "science" which upholds the Helio Model.

If it please, y'er Honor: The acceptance of the light year distances to the furthermost stars proclaimed by the Cosmological "Science" Establishment must rest on the degree to which those claims can be substantiated by verifiable, non-manipulated evidence and nothing else. Above all, this evidence must not be dependent upon or driven by any motivation to fulfill any "religious" agenda. OK?

With those parameters understood to be necessary to any pursuit of truth in this matter, and agreed upon by one and all, the demonstrable and incontestable facts which follow will show that the "Science Establishment" is guilty on both counts, that is to say: It manipulates the evidence and it is fulfilling a religious agenda! Indeed, the facts reveal that this last sanctuary protecting today's cosmological paradigm--i.e., the alleged 15 billion light year thickness of an alleged 15 billion year old universe--is, in fact, little more than a montage of assumptions and fraudulent use of math and technology acting in concert to fulfill a religious agenda.

First, let it be underlined that the claim of billions of light year distances to the furthermost stars seems to forbid their diurnal orbit of the Earth. Nevertheless, we see the stars go around the Earth nightly. That diurnal motion around the Earth is a fact which has never been contradicted by observation. The only other explanation for the uninterrupted repetitive phenomenon is, of course, the assumption that the Earth rotates and this rotation makes it look like the stars are going around.

But clearly this assumption is not admissible evidence in a court of law determining what constitutes "science" according to its definition, i.e., something "known". Rather--unless indisputable proof can be offered to the contrary--this claim by a "science" establishment is plainly just another assumption requiring the prior acceptance of the lack of evidence, assumptions upholding a rotating Earth.

So, recognizing that the only seeming defense that today's cosmologist evolutionists have to rely upon to prevent a serious challenge to either the Heliocentricity Model by itself--or a more broad challenge against the whole Big Bang Mythology which that Model has made possible--is the claim about billions of light year distances to the furthermost stars.

Yet, when it registers in one's mind that all of the "deep space" claims of NASA's "Origins Program" governing space "science" today are claims that are chained to all of the assumptions that accompany the rotating Earth assumption, it becomes obvious: a) That ALL of the claims of modern cosmology which uphold and depend upon those incomprehensible distances and ages are extremely suspect; b) That there is a desperate need to shield the indispensable, yet assumption-ridden--and hence vulnerable!--Heliocentricity Model from serious attack; c) That self-preservation of all that has been built upon the helio model is sufficient motive to use any and all means to prevent such an attack (No one bats an eye when they hear of theft, fraud, cover-ups of all sorts, even murder, in Corporate, Political, Military, Medical, and other kinds of scams and scandals, but those concerns don't hold a candle as far as desperate motive is concerned when it comes to protecting the false evolution-based "science" can of worms from being opened!!); d) That occult math and fraudulent use of technology has been employed to make the distance to the stars so great that they could not get around the Earth nightly, thus hopefully protecting both the helio model and Big Bangism from attack forever. (This is a futile hope!)

As no one contests, acceptance of the Copernican (Helio) Model early on carried with it the tacit acceptance of a progressively bigger and bigger universe. As this acceptance increased so did the size and age of the universe...giving rise to ape-man evolutionary theories in the 17th and 18th centuries...which theories needed eons of time to have any appeal. This pattern soon translated into a growing conviction--in the universities particularly--that any possibility of the Biblical Geo Model's diurnal star movement had been challenged and vanquished forever by "science".

Later, Einstein's Zionist/Kabbalist induced "thought experiments", alteration of word meanings, and relativity nonsense seemed to place the stars even further out of reach of such a nightly journey and prevent any attack on Copernicanism. Shortly after Big Al died, other theory-happy cosmologists continued to inflate the size of the universe on their blackboards. By '65 Arno Penzias carried the "science" ball into the end zone and officially launched the Big Bang Origins Scenario with its concomitant Expanding Universe Concept (hypothesized earlier by De Sitter, Le Maitre, Freidmann, Gamow....

Since that time ('65) the game has been pretty much limited to settling on a radius for the universe. By the '80's it was a standard fact in the books that the universe is some 15 billion light years thick, give or take a meter or two. Such a radius would give the furthermost stars a course of over 45 billion light year miles to cover every day. With the distance of a single light year running almost 6 trillion miles, one could multiply that by a billion...take that result and multiply it by 45 or so to get a number that will cause your motherboard to smoke and jerk and melt right before your eyes.

So, clearly--in spite of the 100% dependency on the 100% assumptions of the Helio Model--Big Bangites have reason to believe they have removed any threat of restoration of the Biblical non-moving Earth Model whereby the stars have to go around the Earth every night. The speed required in the BB Model is just unimaginable, and any who would argue the point are not taken seriously. As an academic matter, the Machian Universe theoretically can still answer all the phenomena, as Astronomer Dr. Gerardus Bouw, Engineer R. G. Elmendorf and many qualified spokespersons in and out of the Geocentric Camp agree. [See: Quotes - Contemporary Scientists] These folks have done much to create something that Bible Geocentrists who understand the pivotal role of the issue can hold on to, and that is important.

But there is so much about this hugely important issue that has nothing to do with science per se--and has everything to do with true religion and the true nature of God--that another model which Biblically and scientifically shrinks the size of the universe dramatically is required if the Kabbalist Universe is to be exposed and the Biblical Universe confirmed. This shrinkage begins by realizing that the Big Bang Universe is just the end of the line of a maze of pseudo-scientific assumptions that got their liftoff with the Copernican revival of the heliocentricity concept of a rotating Earth.

Concerning the present emphasis on the assumptive basis of all modern cosmology, the following summary of the deceptive role of Talmudic /Kabbalistic Judaism masquerading as "science" supplies an indispensable framework for understanding not only how the majority of the Jewish people, but the entire world has been deceived about the size and nature of the universe and the nature and plan of the God behind all of it:

1) All of the three props holding up the present cosmological Paradigm-- Relativity, Big Bang, Expanding Universe--represent the fulfillment of a "Creation Scenario" of Rabbinic writings in the anti-Christ Mystic Kabbala "holy book" of Pharisaic Judaism from the 1st, 12th 13th, and 16th centuries particularly. There are three possible explanations for those documented facts:

a) A handful of Pharisaic Rabbis (Rebbes) were supernaturally gifted to lay out a cosmological plan that would destroy the credibility of the Biblical "Creation Scenario"...and hence the credibility of the Biblical Jesus as the revelator of God's Plan for mankind. These "sages" envisioned a cosmology that would progressively make the universe so vast and old, and the stars so distant that they could never get around the Earth nightly. This vision would destroy in one blow the Biblical Model of a non-moving Earth and lay the foundation for putting the stars so far away that only Kabbalist Big Bang Kosmology could explain it all... (but the explanation was to always be called "science" and never "religion", especially anti-Christ Phariseeism), or:

b) Impartial, purely altruistic truth-seeking secular-minded scientists have--with no religion-connected agenda influencing them--coincidentally and unwittingly brought to pass all the necessary elements of the Rabbinic evolutionary "Origins Scenario" from Copernicus through Darwin, Einstein, Penzias, and NASA's Sagan and Goldin, et al to the present hour; or:

c) The plan was Satan's from the start. "I will exalt my throne above the stars of God... I will be like the most High", he said (Isaiah 14:13, 14: Then God said: "I'm going to let you do that, but then expose all your lies and take you out forever", vs.15-17).

2) The basis upon which all of man's "Knowledge" is formulated comes to rest on what one believes about the Origin of all that is. Starting with the Copernican Revolution, a Theoretical Science Establishment moved into the business of explaining the Origin and history of the Earth and the rest of the cosmos in a way that:

a) Contradicts the non-assumptive, observation-verified Biblical explanation;

b) Progressively insinuated an evolutionary explanation for the Origin of the universe into the University's "physical science" curriculum first, then, after Darwin, into the "biological sciences" and then into all learning "disciplines"; [See: Knowledge Impact]

c) From Newton through Einstein and Communist physicists [See: TSE Pt 2-Hist.BigBang (p.9)] --and now openly Kabbalist physicists such as Dr. Schroeder [See: Kabbala 6] --theoretical scientism has employed occult math and fraudulent use of technology to move the Kabbalistic Kosmos toward its goal of erasing Bible credibility from Creation to Jesus;

d) By 1965 Arno Penzias' micky mouse declaration that he had discovered 15 billion year old radiation from a Big Bang was pure Kabbalist Kreationism going to afterburners, but no one was making the connection; [See: TSE Pt 2-Hist.BigBang (p.7)]

e) "Exobiologist" Carl Sagan and his sycophant cyberspace dopehead compatriots became the computer programmers for NASA's telescopes and cameras and raised fraudulent use of technology to new levels of deceit; [See: NASAs Agenda (pp. 2, 3)]

f) Daniel Goldin took over NASA for nine years and boldly spent billions of tax money to direct all space efforts to "discover our cosmic roots" in a blatant Kabbala fulfillment agenda which he named the "Origins Program"; [See: NASAs Agenda (pp. 3, 4), NASAs O'Keefe]

g) Having surreptitiously nursed the Talmud/Kabbala "Creation Scenario" from Copernicanism to Big Bangism where both are now in the world's textbooks disguised as "science", those who are knowingly behind this scam to end all scams are about ready to break out the champagne; and...

h) All that remains is for this apotheosis of deception to put real fake images of alleged discoveries of ice and moss and proto-evolving extraterrestrial life on your TV and computer screens. This ever-escalating Virtual Reality coup is calculated to end all lingering Bible creation talk and get the Biblical God out of the creation business once and for all. (Read this one page of rhapsodizing about Virtual Reality Technology.

3) "Deep Space" cosmology with all its fantastic claims cannot be separated from its Copernican foundation. That foundation is nothing more than seven interdependent assumptions which deny all observational and experimental evidence, as we've seen. All "Deep Space--beyond the Solar System"--cosmology rests on the assumption that the Earth is rotating. (Put that fact in your memory bank....)

4) With so much riding on the assumption-riddled Heliocentricity Model there was one way--and only one way--to prevent a geocentric uprising somewhere down the line. That way was to establish the sun as just one of innumerable stars--with the Earth as just another planet (of "probable" millions or billions more "out there", it was theorized)--and proceed with occult math and fraudulent use of increasingly programmable technology (and plenty of media cooperation and hype) to move the stars out some 15 billion light years.

At this distance, it was believed; no one could ever argue convincingly that the stars could orbit the Earth nightly. Thus, the Helio Model would be forever safe from exposure; the Origins Scenario of Rabbinic Kabbalism could proceed apace with its Virtual Reality Deceptions; and Christianity could die on the vine...the credibility of its Biblical raison d'être defeated and increasingly mocked.

But don't bet on it!!

Diabolically clever assumptions are still assumptions...and they are vulnerable! When it is understood that these assumptions deny plain Scriptures which are certified by observation and experiment and have never been disproved, then and only then is this battle for foundational truth about the Origin of all that exists put in its proper light. Remember: Ultimately--as shown repeatedly on this webpage, this is a battle between religions...not a battle between science and the Bible. It is an all-out battle in which pseudo-science is the weapon of choice of the g-d of Talmudic/Kabbalistic Pharisaism for defeating the God of Biblical Christianity.

To the natural eye, it may look as though the battle is over and the g-d of pseudo-science has won (Rev. 18:7). But those who know better have read the rest of the chapter. There, and elsewhere, they see how suddenly (vs.8, 10, 17, 19) and completely Satan's Babylonish Empire is "made desolate" ["forsaken by God"

Because this is an all-out battle between the "Creation Scenarios" of two antithetical religions, and because one of these religions has completely deceived the world into accepting its "Big Bang creation scenario" as the work of diligent and brilliant scientific discoveries, three things are immediately obvious:

- 1) One of these religions has accomplished its ends by hiding the fact (until recently!) that today's supposedly secular cosmology is actually a front for an overtly anti-Christ religion, and that this covert religious agenda disguised as "science" has for centuries been the chief instrument of a supernaturally guided plan for destroying Bible credibility and the Christianity that is dependent upon that credibility.
- 2) The necessary foundation for this diabolic agenda--as Kabbalist Rabbi Nachmanides recognized three centuries before Copernicus and as Kabbalist Rabbi Isaac Luria comprehended as soon as Copernicanism was off the launch pad--was that there must be an absolute victory of purely assumptive Copernicanism over the observationally certified Biblical Model of a non-moving Earth.
- 3) Then, with Copernicanism virtually triumphant after a century and a half, the churches--having bowed to this new g-d of "truth" by accepting an evolved universe and evolved earth from the physical "sciences"--had little fight left in them when the Darwinian Revolution captured the biological "sciences" and presented them with evolved mankind. Evolutionism--not only of the bodies in the universe, but of all life forms including mankind--then rapidly became the new foundation of "knowledge". [See: Knowledge Impact] Barely three generations after Darwinism took off; Big Bangism entered the "scientific" camp on cue and provided a universe swarming with evolved Spielbergian and Star Trekian "extraterrestrials". Once the Big Bang Expanding Universe concept took hold in the universities and the media (e.g., Sagan's "Cosmos" Series), the Kabbala agenda was past third base and heading for the home plate. This universe was of such incomprehensible size (and growing by trillions of miles a year!) that no one would dare try to bring back the Biblical Model of a non-moving Earth! That Model required the stars to go around the Earth nightly and nobody...but nobody... would believe they could do that if they were billions of light year distances away... as "science" has assured all of us ad nauseam that they are....

In spite of all that--even when billions of light years thickness for the universe is postulated--the issue has refused to die. A non-moving earth is, after all, repeatedly certified in the Bible, [See: Sixty-seven References] and a few hundred million people still believe that "God's Word never returns to Him void, but always accomplishes what it was sent to accomplish" (Is. 55:11). Satan has his plan, and God has His Plan.

As noted, the chief geocentric response to the Big Bang Universe has come to be the Machian Model. It can explain mathematically how the Biblical Model still answers all the appearances...even to getting the stars around the Earth nightly. As mentioned, Astronomers Dr. G. Bouw, Sir Fred Hoyle, another professionally qualified folks [See: Quotes - Contemporary Scientists] agree that the Biblical geocentric model cannot be disproved.

Also, it is important to weigh in one of the main pillars of the "Electric Universe" theory. [See: Electric] One of those pillars is the conviction that the universe is much, much smaller than Kabbalistic Big Bangism calls for. The physicists and engineers supporting this concept of the stars as ball lightning transformers operating through superconductive space plasma have a Model that makes a lot of sense and solves a lot of problems. It would catch on better and faster if some of its proponents would leave out all the pagan thunderbolt distractions. Still, as it stands, Electric Universe Advocates: a) Boldly guffaw at all the quarks, black holes, superstring legerdemain, etc., of Big Bangism; b) Present a mechanism that sends overworked gravitation theory back to the minors; c) Champion a smaller universe. For these reasons alone EU physicists and engineers deserve a round of applause.

Grateful as I am for the Machian Model because it can contend with the BB Paradigm on its own mathematical turf and still uphold a non-moving Earth--and glad as I am that the Electric Universe Model scoffs at the Big Bang Paradigm (...and includes evidence which points to a much, much smaller universe [See: Electric (p.1)] --there needs, nevertheless, to be a credible, really "small" universe model that totally eliminates the Big Bang Paradigm and all the ages and distances that go with that mountain of contra-scientific Kabbalism.

Accordingly, with God's help I pray, I am going to present seven essays beginning in July 2003 which will describe a really "Small Universe Model". This Model will speak to Bible-devoted Christians--and others, I hope--and be the beginning of the end of the argument that the stars are too far away to go around the Earth every night as observed. This Model will be erected solely on: a) Passages in the Bible which deal directly with the subject of the size and structure of the universe. and: b) Indisputable optical concepts which support the Biblical Model. [See: Size-Structure Pt 1, Size-Structure Pt 2, Size-Structure Pt 3, Size-Structure Pt 4, Size-Structure Pt 5, Size-Structure Pt 6, Size-Structure Pt 7]

Those who either already believe that all Truth on all subjects that man needs to know is in the Bible--or are open to believing that if given enough reason to do so--will see how the Scriptures describe the structure and size of the universe in a way that is totally credible...and just as totally ignored. By connecting what is actually known to an understanding that an anti-Bible religion masquerading as "science" is what has created the mythological size and age of the universe in the first place, each person will be able to decide which one of these religions is telling the Truth about the Size of the universe and the Origin of all that exists.

Those who have no inclination to accept Biblical evidence of a small universe as credible will, of course, denounce the Model. Their education has trained and prepared their minds not to trust the Bible, and even to mock it and those who do believe it is the source of all Truth. I've been there and done that and understand that position.

Nevertheless, I am happy to report that--for both those who do and those who do not trust the Bible for Truth on this and all other subjects--there is a simple fact of true science experienced and understood by everyone which bears powerfully on this subject. Indeed, everyone who has ever taken some note of the extraordinary reflective capabilities of light on a watery surface will understand how the Biblical Model of the universe works. One can recall, for example, the sparkling, shimmering effect of sunlight on even a little pool of water. As for multiple reproductions of a single light source, even a small candle lit in a darkened room will be reproduced reflectively a huge number of times at different angles on various windows, mirrors, refrigerators, door knobs, eyeballs...any reflective surface really.

These reflected images are a strange reversal of the subject, of course, as can be readily confirmed by looking in a mirror and pulling your left ear with your left hand. Your reflection will seem to be pulling your right ear with your right hand. So, obviously, the science which deals with all kinds of reflections--optics, whatever-- knows what can be done with the computerized manipulation of mirrors and cameras in telescopes, for example, and knows how to produce some very creative results depth wise, shape wise, orientation wise, and distance wise!

We will want to keep these kinds of observable, repeatable, confirmable phenomena associated with reflections in mind when we take a careful look at the structure of the universe as given in both some familiar and some heretofore unused (or vanishingly underused) Biblical descriptions of that structure. These descriptions will reveal how the Kabbalistic Big Bang Paradigm has turned trillions of reflections of a limited number of real stars into billions of galaxies in a universe 15 billion light years thick when a large but comprehensible number of stars being reflected trillions of times could easily explain the phenomena and simultaneously fit into the Biblical structure of a universe one-half to one light DAY thick.

After getting a grip on the totally assumptive basis of the Copernican foundation of all modern cosmology it is hoped that people from all beliefs and religions will tighten that grip at every opportunity. Certainly, all are warmly and earnestly invited to weigh the evidence and make a choice as to which religion they are going to align themselves. There is no secular choice; both are religious....

Since, however, the Bible says plainly that God's Judgment "begins at the house of God", [See: House of God] it is evident that the initial focus of this attack on Babylon (confusion) was long ago ordained to fall on the "called, chosen, and faithful of Christ" (Rev. 17:14) who are a distinct minority in Christian Churches of all descriptions. According to the Bible, 3/4 of those in Christian churches--these "houses of God"--are "disobedient, ungodly, sinners" and the other 1/4 are those that are "scarcely saved" [See: House of God] (I Pet. 4:17,18). Whether that "scarcely saved" 1/4 is capable of becoming the "called, chosen, and faithful" who are going to resolutely follow "the Lamb in this war to overcome Satan's deceptions" (Rev. 17:14) remains to be seen. In any event, "unconditional surrender" to the correctly determined doctrinal authority of the Bible will be the standard to which those in the churches will be first called upon to commit themselves.

After all--while Jesus is the steadfast Christian focus: I Cor. 2:2)--that focus can go nowhere but downhill unless the Bible's credibility is assured. A Virgin Born, miracle working, salvation offering, resurrected Jesus has no foundation other than what the Bible teaches about Him. Christians are going to have to get that fact into their spirits and heads and quit playing games where the Word of God is concerned! The Bible is either the source of Absolute Truth on every subject it addresses or it cannot be trusted on any subject, Jesus included. Period and paragraph! Satan knows this--even if Christians don't!--and has been allowed (Acts 15:18; etc.) to use "science falsely so called" to virtually destroy the credibility of the entire Bible by destroying Biblical Creationism (which includes a non-moving Earth! [See: Genesis I 1-5] not only in the world's eyes, but in the churches' also.

That destruction began in earnest with the observation-denying, assumption- ridden Copernican Revolution which begat the Darwinian Revolution which begat all the other Bible destroying "isms" which now undergird all of modern man's "knowledge".[See: Knowledge Impact] The world--and most of Christianity too--has turned away from the Bible as the source of Absolute Truth from God and has turned to what it believes is "Science" as its source of Truth on the foundational question of the Origin and nature of all that exists. This "science" is: a) Really scientism based on fact-denying assumptions from A to Z; b) Not "science" at all but the establishment of the Religion of Talmud/Kabbala Pharisaic Judaism fulfilling its Big Bang evolutionary creation scenario [See: Kabbala 1, Kabbala 6] while accomplishing its supernaturally backed agenda of destroying Bible-based Creationism and Christianity in the process.

Rest assured that the days of this seeming triumph over the Bible and the Biblical Christ are numbered, and the number is small. The utter confusion about Truth in all matters is what the Bible calls Babylon, Satan's Empire. That Empire is exposed and forced to run up its real flag, i.e., its Satanic Flag, "one hour" after a Global Government is seated (Rev. 17:12-14;18:2; 13:2b-7). God is not the author of all this confusion caused by deception (I Cor. 14:33). He has allowed it for eternal reasons (Is. 66:24), but Satan is its author. "Heaven and earth shall pass away, but my words shall not pass away" (Matt. 24:35). Nor will those words "come back to Him void without accomplishing what He sent them to do" (Is. 55:11). Does anyone with their thinking cap on really believe that the God of the universe is going to let the enemies of His Truths triumph over the Bible...when He has made it plain that He has even "magnified His Word above His Name" (Ps. 138:2) ?!

That, my friend, is a rhetorical question! Not only will Babylon Fall and the Bible's credibility be dramatically restored and all doctrinal confusion be cleansed by that Word alone, but it will all happen so quickly (2-3 months) that disbelief and pandemonium will ensue (Rev. Ch.18,etc.) until the Truth is settled. When that is done, the world will have been divided into overt Satan worshippers...and those who get on God's side (Rev. 18:8, 10, 17, 19; 17:12-18; 13:2b-71).

So, as it turns out, there is one and only one ready-made issue that will not only restore the Bible's credibility with the required swiftness and thoroughness, but will also start a domino effect on all false teachings...the ostensibly secular ones and the openly religious ones alike. That domino effect will result in the elevation of the credibility of the Bible to the status of unchallenged inerrancy by the end of Babylon's fall. It is an issue that will separate those who are ready and eager to surrender unconditionally to the Biblical God's authority from those who will not follow that authority even when it is supernaturally demonstrated beyond all doubt. That one ready-made issue is the restoration of the repeatedly stated Bible Doctrine that it is the sun and not the Earth that moves in the heavens. [See: Sixty-seven References] (Joshua 10:12-14), and the simultaneous rejection of the Kabbalistic Universe built on the assumptions upholding a rotating earth.

This is the one teaching that is the Achilles Heel of all the deceptions upholding Satan's Empire of Babylon. This is the one teaching that attacked Bible credibility head-on and paved the way for the success of Darwinism, Marxism, Freudianism, Einsteinism, Penziasism, Saganism, and now Wickramasingheism, all of which are Bible-bashing isms seeking to defeat Biblical Christianity and re-establish Paganism [See: Paganism Pt 1, Paganism Pt 2] under the guise of "science". Finally, this is the one teaching that exposes the Pharisaic Kabbalistic roots of all the Bible-bashing Satanism embodied in those pernicious isms that are poised to finish the job that began in earnest with the Copernican Revolution.

"Come out of her (Babylon), MY PEOPLE", is God's command (Rev. 18:4). The command is first to those in the Christian churches (I Pet. 4:17, 18). Every single one of those churches has denied the Bible that rests on their podiums which repeatedly declares a moving sun and a non-moving Earth.

That denial has made all the rest of today's pseudo-scientific universe possible!!
